

BEYOND MODELS, GOING DEEPER

CO-CREATING AN INQUIRY INTO THE LIVING FIELD OF OUR EXPERIENCE

If you would like to gift yourself the time and space to go deeper, this inquiry-based programme is for you. If you feel the need for refreshment and a deeper vision of the supervision work you offer, this peer learning experience can support you to achieve that.

Leaving our qualifications at the door we will move into the practice of curiosity and emergence. As we spend 4 days together, we will inquire into what takes us beyond established and fixed models. You can expect to be working in a highly collaborative learning community, where easy answers are suspended in favour of deeper possibilities. Our inquiries will lead us along experiential learning paths that use both our client work and our selves. This will include through group process. The environment will be conducive to learning and pausing. The pausing is just as important to the learning experience we will create together.

Each day there will also be space for some personal reflection, possibly journaling, walking, contemplation or meditation. Over the four days we will explore our practice from a diverse number of perspectives, moving between the wider field and ourselves. All the time we will be seeking deeper levels of awareness and insight.

There is always more – more to learn about ourselves and who we are in our work. ‘More’ naturally arises in moments that we co-create during events such as this one. My commitment to ‘Beyond Models/Going Deeper’ is to be there as fully as I can, supporting what arises during our time together. I will hold a space for you that will invite you to have an important conversation with yourself.

The paradox is that while we will all prepare in different ways for this event, it will be ‘in the moment’, that something new will happen for all of us. I look forward hugely to being part of that.

ALISON HODGE

As I dispense with badges and certificates of qualification and accreditation, what I love about supervision is its wonderfully emergent, developmental process for whoever is involved. We’re not scoring and measuring, but rather exploring and discovering what might be possible to understand and be our best selves in service of our clients.

My passion lies in learning, my own and contributing to that of others. Learning about our practice, exploring the wider field and beyond, at the heart of this is learning about ourselves with our constant capacity to grow and evolve which provides a constant source of delight and thrill for me.

MIRIAM ORRISS

Who we are is how we do anything. Ultimately, everything is about connection to our self and to whatever is around us, particularly people. This journey is Beyond Models; it is a journey of the Heart, a meeting of Self and other. Many years ago I began a journey of “coming home” to myself and embraced the mantra “I am just myself”. This encompasses all I have experienced, learnt and know, and moment by moment focusing on being present, being in connection and moving forward into life and work. It is from this place that I will meet you as we work together.

CLAIRE GENKAI BREEZE

I feel I am a work in continual progress. Rather than stating what I have done in the past, I thought I would concentrate on exploring what is at my heart today.

I believe in the grace, mystery and potency of Supervision as a practice for radical empowerment. I experience the seeds of empowerment in the ability to access states of awareness that at first feel subtle or inaccessible. When I am in the flow of that experience I feel very awake. I love to work with others in deepening ways. We all benefit. Two palms to you.
